

ΕΠΙΚΗ ΑΚΑΔΗΜΙΑ

IRAKLIO, CRETE

21st to 30th July, 2016

The ten day programme is designed to provide students, whether pre-university, undergraduate, graduate, doctoral or hellenophiles at large, with an intensive course and cultural programme (34 hours) in a non-competitive and jovial atmosphere.

Intensive Translation of:

Homer's Iliad, Book XXIV

Visits to:

The Newly Re-opened Iraklio Archaeological Museum and the Palace of Knossos

Pre-requisite: Basic knowledge of Ancient Greek

All discussions and presentations will be held in English, while individual translation work may be done and supervised in the following languages:
English, French, German, Italian or Spanish.

Cost: 500 Euros

Includes:

- 34 hours of class time and cultural programme spread over 8 days (Morning sessions: 09:00-12:00; Evening sessions: 18:00-20:00)
- Bed and Breakfast at the Irimi Hotel, Iraklio (2 people/room)
- Opening (21st July) and Closing (29th July) Dinners
- Entrance to the Archaeological Museum and the Palace of Knossos

Registration Deadline: Friday, April 15th, 2016

To register or for further information please contact:

Astrid Eitel PhD (Classical Philologist) and Marco Pietrovito MA (Archaeologist)
at

akademia.epika@gmx.ch